

THINGS TO COME | LET THE ONE WHO IS THIRSTY COME
REVELATION 22:8-21

We began studying the book of Revelation in January of this year and we are now concluding in October. Some do not want to touch Revelation as it is a difficult book to teach and is dependent on a good knowledge of the Bible as a whole. Some never leave the book adding their own unique interpretations and pressing Revelation into places it does not go. We've strived to avoid those approaches. As we approached the book, we did so, fully believing that we are blessed when we read Revelation, hear Revelation, and obey what God clearly teaches in Revelation. In this book we gain a rich Christology, seeing the Lord Jesus Christ more fully than if we had ignored it. What do we learn as we conclude the book of Revelation?

1. We are reminded of the command to _____ the Lord Jesus Christ and His _____.
2. We are reminded that this book is written for _____ in the _____ age and that we'd do well to _____ to it.
3. We are reminded that it is the role of the _____ and the _____ to _____ people to come to Christ now.
4. We are warned to treat God's _____ and this _____ with reverence being careful not to not _____ or _____ from this book.
5. We are encouraged because when Christ _____ for His Church, He will do so _____, and we will be _____ for all eternity by His _____.
